Many scholarship applications will ask for similar documents from you to prove eligibility for funding. This is a good thing— it means you can start one file and keep everything together.

- Tribal Enrollment Verification—
  This is usually a tribal ID card, but for some national scholarships proof of eligibility may be your connection to an ANCSA corporation as a shareholder or descendant. This may be a letter or ID card.

- Proof of Alaska Native/American Indian (AN/AI) Blood —
  This is your Certificate Degree of Indian Blood (CDIB or CIB).
    - Available from the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) office at https://www.bia.gov/regional-offices/alaska

- Proof of Selective Service Registration —
  This is required for male applicants between the ages of 18-25 for all federally based funding.
    - Available at: https://www.sss.gov/

- Most current Official Transcripts noting cumulative GPA —
  If college transcripts are not yet applicable, high school transcripts or GED documentation are required.
    - Available from your school’s Office of the Registrar.

- Acceptance Letter noting degree and major or academic program —
  This is a letter from your school granting you admission and stating your declared major or program change documentation.
    - This information may also be on your transcripts or printed from your online student portal if you do not have a specific letter.

- Registered/official Class Schedule with credit load —
  - Available from your school’s Office of the Registrar or via your online student portal.

- Flip this page over to continue
• Reference Letter —
This is a letter recommending you as a good candidate for college, with the skills and desire to complete your degree program and college goals.

• A complete reference letter must contain the date it was written, signature, and contact information from referrer.

• This can be from a teacher, counselor, supervisor or any non-relative who can speak to your academic potential; see the sample letter below.

Sample letter of recommendation
MM/DD/YYYY

>To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Your Name for the past two and a half years, having served as her teacher in both English and Arts at ________ High School. I believe that Your Name is very well suited for higher education. Your Name is a bright and attentive young person. In class and in her work, she demonstrates that she is an intelligent and capable student with great potential. I am confident that she will thrive in any academic program that she chooses to pursue. I am convinced that Your Name would make a more than valuable contribution to your university. She has my highest recommendation. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

+Sincerely,+
Name of Non-Relative
Teacher, _______ High School (or other title)
Contact Information

• Statement of Purpose —
This is a short essay (like a letter to the scholarship funder) identifying your educational and professional goals.

• See the Statement of Purpose worksheet on the next page to get started on writing your own scholarship essay outline.

• Remember that many funders will have specific prompts that you should use, but you can use the same outline for many essays.

• The Statement of Purpose or essay portion of many scholarship applications is part of the scoring for higher award levels. It is worth your time to double-check all scholarship essays for spelling and grammar before submitting them.

Many applications will require similar documents, so it is a good idea to keep an electronic copy of your previously submitted scholarship materials (on your computer or in cloud storage). This way you can re-use the same items with a few minor changes.
Statement of Purpose Outline Worksheet

Start here and then save a typed-up version of this outline into your scholarship folder for use on multiple scholarship applications.

Answer the following questions for yourself. Use the back if you need more space.

• What is your (planned) degree program? What are you going to study in school?
  I will study:____________________

• What do you want to be?
  I chose this field because:_______

• How does this academic program fit with your long-term career goals?

• What about your personal history makes this field appealing to you?

• Why is this field a good fit for you and/or important for your family or community?

• What are the accomplishments you are proud of, in relation to school and your community?

• How are you/will you contribute to a positive Alaska Native or local community by working in your chosen field?
  I will make a positive impact in my community using this degree by:

Updated 01.13.2021
Other essay prompts to consider:

- Is there anything that you have overcome in your life?

- What has inspired your pursuit of education so far?

- Do you have any hobbies that you are passionate about, whether or not they relate to your career goals?